AMERICAN LEAGUE GROUND. Boston, April 21.—This is the day of days here, for are not the Champs and Athletics to open the season on these grounds? Some of the early bird fans got to the ball park before the gates were opened at 12:30, and they were on hand to avoid the rush that a pleasant day produced. Everything was in readiness for the opening, and there was no delay in finding out the entrance to avoid the stampede of the fans which was due shortly after the noon hour. The fact that the Salem Cadet band was to disconcert some harmonious music started the crowd at a reasonable hour, while there were many who came through before the band got there in order to look up their regular associates and find them again. The rush that was made for the gate at 12:30 was a fine straight defeat at the hands of the Philadelphia and Washington clubs. The Bostonians are better for a short season on home grounds. The champions ship season opened just one week ago today, and since that time the "graves" on earth have played five games, losing them all. But, that's all right. This sort of thing has happened before, and while everybody Continued on Page 9, Column 1.

RUSSIANS IN FRENCH HARBOR!

Defy Order. It Is Reported, to Leave Kamranh Bay.

LONDON, April 21.—Despatches from various sources in London today state the Russian fleet still at Kamranh Bay, despite rumors to the contrary, while a dispatch to the "Country News" says that France has ordered the fleet to leave the harbor in five days. Further, it is stated that the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Delcasse, is greatly concerned at the report that the Russian fleet is still at Kamranh Bay, and that he has, however, given every assurance that the Russian fleet will be ordered to leave the harbor in five days. London reports today that Admiral Holubtchinski has left for India, and that he will reach in Kamranh Bay at least as early as the Russian fleet.

St. Anne's Convent, Near Montreal, Destroyed in Early Morning, and but for Courage and Devotion of Nuns Many More Would Have Perished—Victims Women and Children

Special to the Boston American.

MONTREAL, April 21.—Eight children, four aged women and one nun are known to have lost their lives early to-day in a fire which destroyed St. Ann's Convent, Ste. Genevieve, Jacques Cartier County, twenty miles from this city. Heroism of the sisters alone prevented the death list from greatly exceeding this number, and one of the nuns, Sister Ragetaria, lost her life in the work of rescue.

Battling against smoke and flames, the nuns, aided by the Sister Superior, Marie Adrienne, rushed time after time into the burning building and returned with children in their arms, or supporting one of the twenty aged women who occupied the infirmary, where the fire began.

Nuns Worked Heroically.

Glad only in their tight nightgowns, heedless of the danger to which they constantly exposed themselves and of the extreme cold wind which fanned the blaze furiously, the nuns worked constantly until the people of the village ran to their aid.

EQUITABLE WAR TO BE BROUGHT TO DAY STATE

Agents to Ask Insurance Department Here to Investigate the Society.

MOVE AGAINST TARBELL

By Boston American Special Wire.
NEW YORK, April 21.—This is the program of the general agents of the Equitable company.

Today at 11 o'clock they will call upon Insurance Commissioner Hendricks and ask him to request that the Legislature amend the charter, so as to compel immediate liquidation.

They will also demand that Hendricks order Hyde, if Hendricks refuses to do this, they will go to the Governor.

If they fail to get what they want in New York the agents will then go to Massachusetts and Minnesota, which states have well managed insurance departments, and ask that the same be done there.

The effort will be made in every State to have the affairs of the Equitable investigated, so far as lies in the power of the State.

Finally, the agents intend to take the affairs of the Equitable to the Federal Department of Commerce, which they say the agents and managers who are fighting James H. Hyde.

Does Interstate Business.
The demand will be made that the Federal Department take a hand in the settlement of the affairs of the company upon the plea that the society is amenable to the Interstate Commerce law, in that its business affects every State in the Union.

It is well known that President Roosevelt is in favor of national control of insurance companies. He has made this plain in a special message to Congress and again in the announcement that he will send the amendment that will compel the Equitable to liquidate.

It is well known that President Roosevelt is in favor of national control of insurance companies. He has made this plain in a special message to Congress and again in the announcement that he will send the amendment that will compel the Equitable to liquidate.

Yesterday United States Senator Philbrick of New York was asked by the investigating committee as its counsel.

Will See Governor.
Today a committee of seventy-two of the agents and managers of the society will meet Superintendent of Insurance Hendricks, at Syracuse, N. Y., and will demand that he order Hyde, they will go to the Governor.

Each of these officials will be invited to the agents committee, but would do nothing until the committee have in charge the work of investigating the affairs of the society here.

These visits were arranged by Bainbridge Kelly, one of the agents of the Equitable, on the trip to New York.

Neither official would discuss the matter over the telephone and the letters were arranged for.

Mr. Hyde was not invited to attend, but he might personally or through counsel, visit the chairman.

Frick the Real Power.
To Henry C. Frick, the steel king, the financial community looks for a solution of the difficulties of the Equitable Society.

It is believed that Mr. Frick will be right for the purpose of becoming the chief agent in the liquidation of the society.

It is not believed that he personally would take the presidency of the company. It is thought that his position is to dictate the name of the man who will be the permanent position.

One of the Wall Street friends of Mr. Frick is discussing his suspected ambition.

Mr. Frick is a man who has been the head of the Equitable for the last three months. It is believed that he will be the head of the Equitable for the last three months.

QUARTER SIZES In Regal Ankle-Fit Oxfords

75 new styles of the best-fitting Oxfords ever produced—ready to try on in Regal Stores!

Chafed heels and ankles are the penalty of wearing ordinary low-cut shoes. Because, in most factories, Oxfords are made on the self-same lasts as high-cut shoes.

Regal Oxfords are shaped on special Oxford lasts that bring just the right tension about the ankle to prevent slipping and "gaping" and yet to avoid pinching around the upper edge.

That one feature of ankle-fit in Oxford shoes is only one result of the Regal tannery-to-consumer cost-saving system.

We know what sort of leather is put into Regal shoes because we control the tanning of it. Your choice includes every kind of leather used in made-to-order shoes.—$3.50.

We know what kind of workmanship is put under the finish because we operate our own factories. We guarantee the Regal to outwear any shoe at any price.—$3.50.

We know that Regal styles are right because they are all exact copies of models produced by the foremost custom shoe designers of the three great centers where shoe styles originate—London, New York and Paris.—$3.50.

Made in Black Gun Metal, Russet and Patent Leather, with light extension sole and military heel.

Send for Style Book. Mail Orders Promptly Filled.

Send direct from tannery to consumer. The largest retail shoe business in the world, 90 branches in principal cities from London to San Francisco.
